LEADING HIGH STREET BANK VIRTUALIZES WITH METRON

Thursday 24th July 2008, Date, Taunton, UK: One of the UK's leading high street banks, a client for Metron's Athene product since 2001, has now purchased Athene version 8 and a VMware open license as part of their increasing commitment to a virtualized environment.

The bank is keen to reduce costs, improve resource utilization levels and reduce power, heating and cooling costs. The bank's VMware estate is regarded as a key component in achieving these objectives by helping to reduce 'server sprawl', and its associated direct and management costs.

VMware, used in association with Metron's Athene capacity management product, is providing the bank with a very quick, cost-effective and risk-free method of removing and consolidating servers. At the same time, it provides a strategic infrastructure which will enable rapid expansion when needed in line with demanding business growth.
